{ "title": "ChatGPT Prompt Templates for Marketing and Sales That Actually Convert", "content": "Prompts are the single most important skill you can develop in the AI era. A great prompt is the difference between generic, forgettable content and sharp, conversion-focused copy that sounds like you wrote it on your best day. This section gives you proven, copy-paste templates organized by marketing and sales task. Simply replace the bracketed text with your specific information.

The golden rule of prompting is: give context, give format, give constraints. Tell ChatGPT who you are, what you're selling, who your customer is, what format you want the output in, and any specific requirements. The more specific you are, the better the output. Vague prompts produce vague results. Every template below follows this principle.

EMAIL MARKETING PROMPTS

Welcome Email Template:

Write a welcome email for new subscribers to [Your Business Name]. We sell [product/service] to [target customer]. The tone should be [warm/professional/casual]. The email should: thank them for subscribing, briefly explain what they'll receive, share one quick win or tip they can use today, and end with a soft call-to-action to [visit website/book call/download freebie]. Keep it under 250 words. No clichés like 'excited to have you here.'

Promotion Email Template:

Write a promotional email for [product name] priced at [price]. Target customer: [describe them]. Key benefit: [main outcome the customer gets]. Objection to overcome: [main reason they hesitate to buy]. Include: attention-grabbing subject line, problem-agitate-solve structure, 3 bullet point benefits, one customer testimonial placeholder, urgent CTA button text. Tone: [conversational/professional]. Length: 300 words max.

Abandoned Cart Email:

Write a 3-email abandoned cart sequence for [product]. Email 1 (1 hour after abandonment): Gentle reminder, no discount. Email 2 (24 hours): Address the top objection [state it]. Email 3 (48 hours): Final nudge with [10% discount/free bonus]. Each email: subject line, preview text, body under 150 words, CTA. Tone: helpful, not pushy.'

SOCIAL MEDIA PROMPTS

Instagram Caption Formula: Write 5 Instagram captions for a post about [topic]. My audience: [describe]. My brand sells [product/service]. Each caption must: start with a hook (no questions as openers), include a relatable insight or story, add value or a tip, end with a call-to-action. Use emojis sparingly. Include 5 relevant hashtags at the end of each caption. Tone: [your brand tone].

LinkedIn Thought Leadership Post: Write a LinkedIn post about [your insight or lesson learned]. Format: Start with a bold one-line hook, use short paragraphs (1-2 sentences each), include a numbered list of [3-5 key points], end with a question to drive comments. My profession: [your role]. My audience: [target audience]. Word count: 200-300 words. No buzzwords like synergy, disruptive, or game-changer.

Twitter/X Thread Creator: Create a 10-tweet thread about [topic] that positions me as an expert in [your niche]. Tweet 1: Bold claim or counterintuitive statement to hook readers. Tweets 2-9: One insight per tweet, each with a concrete example or data point. Tweet 10: Summary and CTA to [follow/visit website/download freebie]. Each tweet: max 280 characters. Add relevant emojis where natural.

SALES & CONVERSION PROMPTS

Sales Page Headline Generator: Generate 20 headline variations for a sales page selling [product] to [audience]. The product helps them [main outcome] in [timeframe] without [main pain or sacrifice]. Mix these formulas: How-to, Number-based, Question, Benefit-focused, Social proof. Highlight the top 3 with a star.

Product Description Writer: Write a product description for [product name]. Price: [price]. Platform: [website/Amazon/Flipkart]. Customer: [who they are, what they want]. Features: [list 3-5 features]. For each feature, write the emotional benefit, not just the technical spec. Format: 1 paragraph overview, 5 bullet benefits, 1 closing sentence with CTA. SEO keyword to include naturally: [keyword].

Objection Handler: My product is [product]. My customers' top 5 objections are: [list them]. For each objection, write: 1) A one-sentence acknowledgment, 2) A reframe that shifts their perspective, 3) A proof point (testimonial, data, or demonstration). Use this to write a FAQ section for my sales page. Tone: empathetic, not defensive.

CUSTOMER SERVICE PROMPTS

Complaint Response Template: Write a professional, empathetic response to this customer complaint: [paste complaint]. The response should: acknowledge their frustration specifically, take appropriate responsibility without admitting legal fault, explain what action we will take and by when, offer a goodwill gesture of [refund/discount/replacement].
